PROFILE

I am a Master's student in English Studies and Communication at the University of Graz, with a strong creative practice in music production, sound design, audio editing, and video. I produce music across multiple genres using FL Studio and Ableton Live, edit video and multimedia content, and build my own digital platforms. I am drawn to Radio Helsinki because I believe community radio is one of the most genuine spaces for independent storytelling, experimental sound, and cultural exchange and I want to contribute to that.
